Purchasers are advised that the standard features provided are as set out above without substitution or addition. Purchasers are further advised that in the event that they delete any of the standard features being provided then no substitution or credit will be granted for the deletion or deletions. The standard features and specifications set out above and in the Vendor's marketing materials are from samples provided by the Vendor in accordance with the plan purchased. Finishes, cabinets, tiling, counter tops and floor finishes may vary from samples provided by the Vendor. The Vendor reserves the right to substitute material that the Vendor may require provided such substitutions are of equal or greater quality. Humidity levels may cause gaping or cupping in engineered flooring which are acceptable industry standards. All measurements are approximate and heights may be affected by ceiling bulkheads where installed and by dropped ceilings where applicable. Purchasers are advised to carefully review the plan chosen by them and make inquiries relating to all proposed measurements.
